WHAT WE DO:

We develop and provide diversity trainings for the SIU Carbondale campus including trainings for students, staff, and departments. Our trainings strive to maintain the inclusive excellence of our campus and cover the concepts of diversity, privilege, intersectionality, inclusivity, and being an ally. We offer broad diversity trainings for the campus community, as well as trainings on specific topics pertaining to diversity issues.

We are excited to be developing trainings for the SIU campus and would love to hear from you about topics or potential trainings that you would like to see on campus. If you have any ideas, suggestions, or feedback, please contact us at diversitysiu@siu.edu.

WHO WE ARE:

Remya Perinchery, M.A.

I'm a third year graduate student in the Counseling Psychology program here at SIU. My work is focused on micro aggressions in higher education and experiences of students of color in the classroom. I'm passionate about creating a safe and inclusive space for all students on campus and creating conversations around diversity that promote connection, collaboration, and cooperation.

Catarina Durante Bergue Alves, M.A.

I'm a fourth year doctoral candidate in the Counseling Psychology program here at SIU. My work is focused on social justice and advocacy related to issues of diversity, gender equality, and survivors of gender-based violence. I'm passionate about educating and providing learning opportunities surrounding diversity and inclusivity and creating spaces where all voices can be heard.
